Once again we proudly present our most limited and exclusive offering – The 2012 Hartwell Estate Reserve Sauvignon Blanc, produced from our four-acre estate vineyard in Los Carneros, Napa Valley’s coolest and southernmost appellation. Crafted solely from the incomparable and highly aromatic Sauvignon Musque clone, the 2012 Estate Reserve Sauvignon Blanc expresses the floral and tropical characteristics unique to this prized clonal selection. Grapes are meticulously sorted to eliminate imperfections and then gently whole-cluster pressed.

With a total production of 125 cases, this Southern Bordeaux-inspired release has been fermented in a combination of new French oak barrels. The wine was then aged sur-tees for 18 months in 100% new French oak barriques.

An enrapturing bouquet of pineapple, lemon curd and Thai coconut unfurls from the glass, followed on the palate by bold and dramatic flavors spanning Asian pear, coconut custard, mission fig and spice box. Full-throttled, yet refined, the 2012 Hartwell Estate Reserve Sauvignon Blanc exhibits a youthful exuberance but promises a long life ahead of drinking pleasure.
